

VOL. I

APRIL 1985

NO. 5

THIS MAY BE YOUR LAST "TWG NEWS"!

"TWG NEWS" was created as a communications network for members of THE WASHINGTON GROUP. Since TWG was a new organization, the Board of Directors decided to circulate TWG NEWS to non-members in an effort to acquaint them with the organization. That policy has resulted in dramatically increasing the membership of TWG.

Now, at the six month point of TWG and after five issues of TWG NEWS, the board of Directors has decided to return TWG NEWS to its original purpose, i.e. a newsletter for TWG members. To do otherwise would be an fair expense for those who have joined Beginning with the May issue, TWG NEWS Will be sent to only TWG members.

CASINO DAY - UKRAINIAN STYLE

by Natalie Sluzar

Perhaps it was a poet who said that there's a gambler in each of us. Perhaps it was just a big winner (or loser) at the slot machines. To the 32 "gamblers" on the March 16th TWG trip to Atlantic City, it didn't matter who said it. They all believed it and wanted to try their luck.

Since the inception of gambling casinos, a decaying Atlantic City has been transformed into a glamorous, neon-lite haven for the rich and poor. Among those mixing in the casinos were mink-clad, diamond-cluttered women as well as the polyester pant-suit inner city dwellers. The casinos are glamorous--all glitter, plush carpeting, scantily-clad hostesses waitresses all ready to meet your y wish. It was a fairyland for those chose to live out their fantasies. Realizing that some people are unable to join TWG, the Board has decided to allow non-TWG members to subscribe to TWG NEWS at an annual rate of $12. The policy of sending a trial three-month subscription to new arrivals in the Washington area, however, will be continued in an effort to acquaint these people with THE WASHINGTON GROUP.

If you are not a member of THE WASHING-TON GROUP, you are encouraged to join as soon as possible to avoid any interruption in your TWG NEWS service. To continue receiving TWG NEWS, join TWG or subscribe to TWG NEWS by April 25. The back page of this issue contains a form for both membership and subscription.

UKRAINIAN AMERICAN CONVENTION

by Nickolas C. Kotow

I read in The Ukrainian Weekly of January 13, 1985 under the by-line of Andrij Bilyk that there is open whether there will be a gathering of Ukrainians in the Fall of 1985 in Washington, D.C. I write to urge you and The Washington Group to enter this vacuum and sponsor such a gathering.

I propose the format to be a "UKRAINIAN AMERICAN CONVENTION" or "KOZAK CONVENTION" or "PYROHI PICNIC" with the id4a to get our young people into Washington, provide the opportunity to get to know one another, and to decide for themselves what the agenda will be for the next succeeding year. Specifically, I offer the following ideas: 1) ABSONLUTELY NO CONCERN. 2) Have it as a real political type convention with "planks", workshops, etc. Open up the discussions to anyone who wants to say something on issues (not personalities).

NEW LOOK, SAME "TWG NEWS"

As you can see, some changes have occurred with the TWG NEWS. To begin with, we have a new masthead that is based on the new logo of THE WASHINGTON GROUP. TWG NEWS, the TWG Board of Directors, and TWG members extend their appreciation to Hanja Cherniak-Mack for designing the logo of TWG. It is a great job!

We have also modified the format of TWG NEWS in an effort to improve the overall appearance of the newsletter. Your input on the changes and suggestions for other changes is welcome and appreciated.

TWG NEWS is still dependent on your contributions. We do not have a full-time staff to gather information on members or activities in Washington. We urge you to let us know about events and activities for the Calendar of Events. We also depend on you to provide information for our "Notes on Members" column, either about yourself or other members. Articles, letters, comments on any subject are encouraged so please do contact us.

Along with the format changes to TWG NEWS, the TWG Board of Directors has decided to transition TWG NEWS to a members only newsletter, which was its original intent. The newsletter was sent to a wider audience to acquaint them with the newsletter and the organization. We urge you to become a TWG member if you are not yet one! At a minimum, we encourage you to subscribe to TWG NEWS!

We look forward to working with you throughout the rest of the year.

Letters to the Editor

MEETING PLACE

As a full member of The Washington Group, I find it a necessity for a weekly gathering place. I realize that this is a difficult concept since problems arise with using a private dwelling. Therefore, I propose that if we, the members of The Washington Group, are to become a unified and acquainted group--why not designate public premises, i.e., bars/restaurants, where at a specific time and day we can enjoy each others company.

Uke in search of a weekly meeting place

IS IT CONTAGIOUS?

Thank you for the copy of the Washington Group Newsletter. Chris and I both read it and loved many of the articles, especially the piece on "The Ukie Yupie". We were very interested in what made up a Ukie Yupie, except we could never figure out what varrenyky was and if it was contagious. I hope you'll be sure to put us on the mailing list and we will keep in touch on Freedom Federation activities. I wish you success with TWG.

SPOTLIGHT ON

EMILIA K. PROCINSKA

The First TWG Associate Member

One of the goals of TWG was to form an organization that would attract activists from both the younger and the older generations. M'il'a Procinska was the first of the senior generation to sign up as an Associate Member.

M'il'a Procinska was born in Sokal, Halychyna but grew up in Lviv, graduating from the Teachers' Pedagogical Institute in Lviv in 1934.

As many of our parents, she along with her husband and three male children emigrated westward at the end of the war and settled in Bavaria. They lived near Ansbach for four years while her husband commuted to Nuremberg where he worked as the sports editor of a Ukrainian newspaper.

In 1949, after nearly a year in the Regensburg Displaced Persons camp, the family came to the U.S. and settled in Washington as one of the few new immigration Ukrainians settling this far south.

Even while her children were growing up, she became interested in the behavior of the American leaders in Washington, not to mention, greatly disappointed by their lack of knowledge concerning Ukraine and Eastern Europe in general. One of her first attempts at remedying this situation was to get her son to help her write a letter to President Eisenhower for failing to make a distinction between Ukraine and Russia and failing to list Ukraine as a captive nation in one of his speeches back in the early 1950's.

Mrs. Procinska worked at the American Chemical Society for a number of years before retiring to the suburbs in 1965. She has been an active participant in the social and cultural life of the Washington Ukrainian community since that time.

She has been a member of the local chapter of the Ukrainian Women's League since its inception, serving several terms as an officer and delegate to a number of national conventions. She initiated the idea of includ-

'g a Ukrainian Christmas Tree in the Smithnian Christmas Exhibit in 1981 and made many of the decorations herself. Mrs. Procinska has attended international conferences in Rome, Toronto, and Washington. She is currently the Corresponding Secretary of the Holy Trinity Particular Ukrainian Catholic Church Corporation in Washington and is in charge of the museum and permanent exhibit of Ukrainian culture at St. Sophia's Religious Association.

One of her most rewarding pastimes is writing letters to editors of newspapers, producers of TV programs, and Congressmen. Unlike some of us who mutter a few words under our breath when we hear or read something we don't agree with or appreciate, she does something about it. When asked whether there were any publications that she finds "interesting", she responded that her "favorite" paper is the Washington Post. Also, she doesn't know what she would do without CBS.

She has tried her hand at ceramics and painting but found that dealing with inanimate objects was not as satisfying as participating in the life of the community she lives in.

NOTES ON MEMBERS

TWG Member Michael Hoobchaak will appear in the Northern Virginia Opera Company's production of Jacques Offenbach's "La Perichole" on April 19 and 20. The performances will be held at the Thomas Jefferson Center located at Route 50 and Glebe Road in Arlington. For further information about either performance, contact Michael at 703-971-2711.

Juliana Osinchuk, an applicant for TWG membership, will be appearing at the National Gallery of Art in a "Violin and Piano Recital" with Kevin Lawrence. The recital will take place on Sunday, April 28 at 8:00 p.m.

TWG MEMBERS' DIRECTORY

THE WASHINGTON GROUP will soon be publishing the TWG MEMBERS' DIRECTORY listing each member's name, address, telephone number, occupation, place of employment, title, and office telephone number. We ask that all members who have not fully filled out their application form to do so as soon as possible. If any member does not want any of the above information published, please let us know. The directory will be mailed to TWG members only.

SCIENCE PROGRAMS FOR STUDENTS

by Ihor Vitkovitsky

The Naval Research Laboratory (NRL) in Washington, D.C. is a prestigious scientific and technological institution, established by the U.S. Congress in 1923 at the urging of Thomas Edison. It conducts a broadly based, multidisciplinary program for the Navy and the Defense Department. The contributions of its 3,500 employees are throughout the world. One of its forwardlooking programs is aimed at cultivating the future scientific and engineering cadres of the United States.

For those young Ukrainian-Americans interested in the scientific fields and in making contributions to the security and defense of the United States, there exist several opportunities at NRL to gain relevant experience which would help them in long-range decisions about their careers. An outline of the various opportunities follows. A fairly extensive description of some of the programs is included because it is representative of similar programs in other federal agencies.

Any young people who are interested in pursuing these programs should seek additional information from the NRL Personnel Office (202-767-3421) or call Ihor Vitkovitsky at 202-767-2997.

The Laboratory has a continuing need to recruit highly qualified scientists, engineers, and other professionals. A variety of programs are currently available for high school, undergraduate, and graduate level student employment.

A. High School Level

1. Research Apprenticeship Program. This program is organized and administered by the Employee Development Branch under a grant awarded by NRL to a local university to recruit, screen, select, and supervise participants. Participants are usually high school juniors from the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area who have demonstrated high academic ability, are interested in science and engineering, and are recommended by their high schools. Students receive a stipend ($1,100 in 1984) for 8 weeks of participation. During the summer, each student is assigned a volunteer mentor (an NRL scientist or engineer) who works closely with the student to provide meaningful work.

2. Gifted and Talented Student Program. The current program is based on agreements between NRL and T.C. Williams, Groveton, Cross land, Lek Braddock, Friendly, Oxon Hill, and West Springfield High Schools, but the program can be expanded to include additional area high schools. Students employed under this program must be at least 16 years old, may not work in hazardous areas, may not be the son or daughter of any current Navy employee, and are usually seniors. Appointments are made at the GS-1 level and are for 1,040 hours.

B. College Undergraduate/Graduate Level

1. Summer Hire Program. NRL employs approximately 50 persons in two categories of this program. Group II includes undergraduates employed at the GS-2 through GS-4 levels as subprofessionals in engineering, physical sciences, mathematics, and computer sciences/ operations. Group III includes graduates, graduate students, and faculty members employed in professional or technical work at the GS-5 level and above. Candidates must file applications with NRL by 15 February each year. Competition for summer-hire positions is extremely keen and candidates are rated on demonstrated academic achievement and applicable work experience. The program includes appoint ments made for the period from 12 May to 1 October.

2. Federal Junior Fellowship Program. High school graduates in the top 10% of their graduating classes who plan to enter college in the fall and who met financial needs criteria are nominated by their high school counselors to NRL. Students who are selected work during summer and other school vacations as assistants to scientific, professional, or technical employees in fields related to their undergraduate fields of study. Appointments are made not-to-exceed graduation plus 120 days and are initially at the GS-2 level. Students are promoted as they meet educational qualification requirements for the next higher grade. Students are carried on Leave Without Pay (LWOP) during the school sessions. Under certain circumstances, Junior Fellows may be converted to permanent Federal employees upon graduation. Only U.S. citizens may be appointed. Sons and daughters of current Navy employees are not eligible for this program.

3. Cooperative Education Program.

TWG NEWS SURVEY

P. 7. 7 7 2

In an effort to solicit your views and to make TWG NEWS a two-way street, we are initiating an unscientific survey. The purpose is to better understand your perceptions about the state of Ukrainian-American professionals.

This month we are interested in your views about Ukrainian-American professionals of the opposite sex. In writing your comments you should consider how you view them, how you perceive they view themselves, how you interact with them both professionally and socially.

We ask that you write out your comments and mail them in by April 15th. You need not sign your name but please do indicate your sex. Next month we will report on the comments using excerpts from your letters.

SHEVCHENKO PROGRAM STIRS BYSTANDER

by Maria Rudensky

My sister and I were brought up as Ukrainians, to be sure. But in our home, that did not mean many overt displays of patriotism. Going to akademias and anniversary programs was not as much of a priority as speaking, reading, and writing in Ukrainian and learning our history and literature, and culture.

But now I'm living away from my parents -- my time is my own. March 9 started out bright and sunny and as I climbed on my bike, the wheels led toward 23rd and P. I remembered reading that the Ukrainian community would be having a commemoration of Taras Shevchenko there.

As I approached the plaza, I saw the familiar banners, the knot of people -- some in embroidered blouses and kiptary -- gathered in front of Shevchenko. Young children played on the grass and their parents shushed them. I felt like others who interrupted their hurrying, pulled cars over to the curbs, stopped their dogs, put their bags down, and watched and listened to the proceedings. What is that statue and who are those people, they must have wondered.

The speakers and singers gave admirable performances. Typically, the sound system crackled at moments, and towards the back, people chatted rudely. But I stood there in awe of what Ukrainians had put up in Washington. With the green flow of pigment, from certain angles, it almost looked as if Shevchenko had shed a tear or two. Was it for captive Ukraine, or for people like me, living in the abundance of America and sometimes barely acknowledging my suffering brethren?

The program was sponsored by the Ukrainian Association of Washington Metropolitan Area and the T. Shevchenko School of Ukrainian Studies. Rev. Taras Lonchyna said a prayer in Ukrainian, reading from Shevchenko's work, and Rev. Joseph Denischuk offered a prayer in English. Ulana Sos, President of the Association, coordinated the ceremony. Alvin Kapusta gave a moving speech. Marichka Krul recited "Kozachkovskomu". And Mykola Stawnychy read the Bard's "Poslanya". Afterwards, Alicia Andreadis led the group in singing "Zapovit".

Just like the Kozaks decided things in a democratic style. 3) MOST IMPORTANT, whatever format is decided upon, the gathering should provide the opportunity to meet one another-create a "reunion" type atmosphere.

However, I suggest that THE WASHINGTON GROUP take the attitude that THEY are running the show and that the UCCA, UACC, etc. are "invited" as guests, but they are not running the show. Also, I would definitely aim toward the young professional set who are like young turks itching to take over the reigns. This is the golden opportunity and the vehicle to get the Ukrainian Community off dead center, introduce the use of effective American methods, and really get effective input to the American political leaders.

Here's hoping that you agree, and I await the announcement of the first annual "Ukrainian AMERICAN Convention" in Washington, D.C.

(Editor's Note: The above is an edited version of a letter to The Washington Group from Nickolas Kotow of Bethel Park, PA.)

a. Undergraduate. This program provides for periods of study interspersed with periods of study-related work. NRL has written agreements with colleges and universities having cooperative programs in science and engineering. Sophomore students and above are recommended by their schools and selected by NRL managers or supervisors. Appointments begin at the GS-3 level and students may be promoted up to GS-5 based on completion of coursework and work experience. Students are placed on LWOP while attending school.

b. Graduate. This program is essentially the same as the undergraduate program except that the initial appointment of students with bachelor's degrees is at the GS-5 or 7 level, depending on qualifications. Students may be enrolled in either a master's degree or Ph.D. academic program.

UKRAINIAN TRIVIA

The answer to last month's trivia question is: "Yes, My Darling Daughter". The first correct answer was received from Bohdanna Prynada of Bowie, MD who wins a Ukrainian vase. Bohdanna also pointed out that the song was song by Dinah Shore and later by Melanie.

This month's Trivia Question is in the form of a "Who Am I?" The hint is that he is an actor who starred with Tallulah Bankhead in the movie "Lifeboat".

WHO AM 1?

The correct answer with the earliest postmark will receive a prize. The answer and the winner will be announced in the next TWG NEWS.

4. 1040-Hour Appointment Authority. This authority provides for the employment of high school, college, and university students who are pursuing courses related to the fields in which they are employed at NRL. Work may not be of a routine, clerical nature and is limited to 1040 hours (approximately 6 months) in a 12-month period. Students must attend school on a full-time basis. This type or appointment may be made between 1 October and 11 May if the student is available to work parttime and/or during school vacation periods other than the summer employment period (12 May through 30 September). Students may be appointed between 12 May and 30 September only if they have applied and are eligible under the Summer Hire Program.

TWG members were in good spirit. Everyone joked around on the bus, challenging one another as to who will win the "jackpot". Everyone knew or heard of someone who won $100,000 or a million or more in a slot machine. You could see the longing in everyone's eyes: Oh, make it me, make it happen to me!

Immediately upon arrival, the experts quickly disappeared leaving us amateur slot-machine players to roam, explore, win or lose, on our own. Since there's safety in numbers we novices stuck together like glue, first just looking and then gradually throwing in our first quarter, then two. Before you know it the whole roll is gone! But, wish in fickle ladyluck. Better try again!

We ventured out along the Boardwalk, window shopping, or perhaps casino browsing is more correct. There seemed no end to the masses of people walking briskly along the Boardwalk, probably going from casino to casino, gradually submitting to the lure of coin jingling, bells ringing--always that thrill of "maybe next time" it will be me.

It's hard to tell how most of the people spent their day. Back on the bus the mood was boisterous, happy. No one admitted to being a big winner, or a big loser Everyone sang, joked around, and told tale. of their advertures. Such was our day in Atlantic City. It was truly a unique, adventuresome experience.
